We're So Excited!

The big news here at the GLOW offices is the big bag the mailman carts in every morning, overflowing with cards and letters from you faithful, enthusiastic GLOW fans out there. We never realized there were so many of you! Naturally, we're delighted. The more mail we receive, the better we like it—even though the mailman's been making threats lately. We've even expanded our letters columns in this issue as a small effort to accommodate the deluge of mail.

Believe me, we're reading every letter. We're organizing the letters you address directly to the GLOW stars so that we can forward all their mail to them. And we're paying close attention to your comments and suggestions. After all, you the reader should feel like GLOW magazine is your publication, too. So if you think we're not doing something right, or maybe we could do it better, please let us know. And certainly, if you have any ideas about possible new features in GLOW, we want to hear them. We've already written back to one girl who wrote in with a suggestion, and we offered her the chance to create a special page in the next issue of GLOW.

We're also excited about the GLOW Tour that started in January. It's been packing coliseums, auditoriums and gymnasiums all over the country. We're trying to keep you abreast of all the last-minute dates and places on the tour, but since there's at least a month between our press time and the time GLOW hits the stands, we can't always be up to the minute. That's why there's a special phone number you can call to find out if the GLOW Tour is coming to a town or city near you. It's (213) 461-5400. Or you can write to GLOW Live, 6121 Santa Monica Blvd., Hollywood CA 90038.

The excitement of GLOW is building every day. Don't miss it!

WOW, we didn't realize how many GLOW fans there are out there! Your letters have been avalanching into our offices in such huge amounts that the mailman's asking to be put on our company health plan (just in case he develops back trouble). Though we read every letter that arrives, we can only run a few in this and other columns each month. But don't let that hold you back. Keep those letters coming! And please keep in mind that if you want an answer in the mail, you'll have to include a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

COMMENTS & COMPLAINTS

I have been enjoying the GLOW television matches for months now and am delighted to see that you are now offering a magazine as well. Great stuff! As a long-time fan of women's wrestling, I'm happy to see its popularity returning, thanks to such things as GLOW, movie releases like All The Marbles, and nightclub wrestling shows.

Who's my favorite GLOW wrestler? I have to say it is Jungle Woman. She is a great wrestler, sexy, and I enjoy the bad girl types.

My complaints about GLOW? I think you should tone down the theatrics just a bit. A certain amount of this stuff is fun and adds a lot to the excitement of the matches, but chainsaws, blowtorches, toilet plungers, cold-cream-covered faces, etc., gets a little silly.

As a long-time "leg man," my other complaint is the practice of just about all the GLOW wrestlers competing in pantyhose. Most of the wrestlers are young and attractive and I'm sure have legs that would look just fine bare. The pantyhose tend to make the girls' legs look like wood, they are cumbersome for athletic competition, and they look so out of place when their tops show around the waistline of the girls' suits. The California Dolls in All The Marbles appeared to be barelegged and looked the better for it.

Tim Collins
E Granby CT

Hey, Tim, thanks for your comments. But what's this stuff about theatrics? Blowtorches, chainsaws, plungers—aren't those just the normal tools of any rotten wrestler?—Editor

DEMENTIA IS MY INSPIRATION

I bought the first issue of GLOW magazine and did not see my favorite wrestler, Dementia, in it at all. She has a unique style, but I like her. Her raggedy dress gives her a street urchin look, but I think in new, flashy clothes she'd be as sexy and beautiful as Americana. I like the Friday the 13th movies. She looks cool in Jason's hockey mask. I'd like to hear from her if she could find the time. I really like seeing her in the ring.

Enclosed is a special letter from me I'd like for you to send along to Dementia at the state hospital.

Kevin Meacham
Malone NY

We'll run your special letter on this page, Kevin, but we're afraid to deliver it to Dementia. Otherwise she might do to it what she did to Spence Davisson's letter (in One On One). Nobody around here enjoys getting Dementia all stirred up.

BEST DRESSED WRESTLER

I like Americana because she is so pretty and so muscular. She wins most of her matches; I also think she is a good clean wrestler. But do you remember the match between Americana and Colonel Ninotchka? Americana won the match because of two reasons. (1): Ninotchka was pinned before Americana got pinned. (2): Ninotchka knocked the referee out of the ring. Now let me get back to why I like Americana. I like Americana because she stays together when she is getting beat up and because of her suit, it is so American with the red, white & blue. The one thing about her suit I don't like is her boots. They have to go, because they don't look good on her. She should get some boots like Spanish Red. What I like best about her suit is her cape!

Tim Collins sends a love letter from Connecticut to Dementia (opposite); Lou Andrade from California likes Americana's attire (below), while Tara (bottom) tickles the heart of Washington's Ed Dumont.

I WANNA WRESTLE

I just purchased a copy of GLOW magazine and found your ad that said you were looking for girls like me that want to be wrestlers. Well, how old do you have to be? You see, I'm only 15. But I have a great need for adventure and excitement. Just ask my parents. When it all builds up and I can't hold it in any longer, I have to get it out of my system or else I might do something I'll regret later, so I got into sports and nature. Among my hobbies are basketball, wrestling, dancing and caring for animals. I'm also thinking about trying out for my boyfriend's band as a singer, and I like trying to play my electric guitar.

So if you think I have a chance to be a wrestler, please let me know.

Sharon Daniels
Mason OH

Hi, Sharon, this is Debbie Debutante. Jim, the editor here, gave me your letter. It sounds like you're really sick and tired of Mason and want to get out of there in the worst way. On the other hand, judging from your athletic and musical activities, you're putting your time to good use.

But I must deliver the bad news to you. At 15, you're too young for professional wrestling. Too young for GLOW and too young for any other professional wrestling organization.

But you seem to be on the right track. High school wrestling is the best training you could possibly get if you're serious about exploring the world of GLOW. Just keep yourself in shape, keep your body buffed, learn as much as you can about everything, and by all means stay in school, no matter how much grinning and bearing it requires. You sound like the perfect candidate for GLOW's 1991 season, and I'll be anxious to hear from you then.

TINKLING FOR TARA

I just bought the first issue of GLOW magazine and I thought it was hilarious. It was non-stop laughs from cover to cover. However, since it can't do any harm to write, I thought I'd say that both Hollywood and Tara are a couple of gorgeous femmes. They look very fetching up there on my apartment wall. Very nice. Tell Tara that she can come over and tinkle on my piano any time at all. I don't own a piano, but I'd rent one for the occasion.

DEBBIE DOES IT

I just wanted all of you to know that I'm a very big fan of GLOW and especially of Debbie Debutante. I love her lingerie and the outfits she wears. I'm wondering if Debbie could send me some photos of herself modeling her nice, new, sexy lingerie. She turns me on with every move she makes in the ring. I think GLOW is something we always needed.

I HATE COMMIES

I watch GLOW every week. I'm writing to let Ninotchka the commie know what I think about other Russian women. I think that Russian commie women ain't nothin' compared to us American women. Ninotchka keeps running her big mouth about how she'll never get beat. Well let me tell you that there's always someone just a little better than you somewhere. You should be grateful that we let you come into this country. You keep bragging about how you can teach our American men a thing or two. Ha, Ha, Ha. Who's gonna teach you? I hate all you commies!

Polly Feinstein
South Bend IN

SOUTHERN COMFORT

I watch GLOW every week and it's the greatest show on TV. My favorite wrestler is Tara the Southern Belle. She's a skillful and cautious wrestler, and pretty soon she'll be wearing the GLOW crown on her head. I think it would be great if you would assign a match between Tara and Ninotchka, the puny Russian. Make it a no-disqualification match so I can watch Tara pound Ninotchka's head into the ground.

Jason Osbourne
Pulaski VA

DESPERATELY SEEKING SUSIE

I think that Susie Spirit is the greatest lady wrestler in the world and the uncrowned GLOW champion. I've never seen her pinned or defeated, except for her match with the Headhunters. I can't believe that they actually broke her arm! I'm glad she's okay now. I would really like to be her best friend if she doesn't already have one.

Jenny Chindamo

Jenny, thanks for your support, and also for being my friend.—Susie S.

BEST & WORST

Congratulations on the most entertaining show on TV. I hope your magazine indicates that the show will go on even after that slug McLane left.

Here are my views on the GLOW characters:

Favorite Good Girl: Americana. What a doll! Where has she been lately? Can you send me a picture?

Favorite Bad Girl(s): Heavy

Metal Sisters, Chainsaw and Spike. They have a great time being bad. Especially Chainsaw—what a body!

Least favorite Good Girl(s): Olympia. An over-bulked steroid freak! Should be pulling a beer wagon for Budweiser. And Little Fiji is utterly helpless in the ring.

Least favorite Bad Girl(s): The Housewives. Boring! Slow, dull matches. They should be flushed...and I don't mean with pride!

I hope this information is helpful. Please don't forget my photo of Americana.

Larry Ray
Fayetteville NC

Larry, your letter and comments have been noted, and the Housewives say they wished you'd come to see them on January 8th at Fort Bragg's Base Gym.

Jenny Chindamo thinks the Crown belongs to Susie Spirit (opposite); but Susan Taylor from New Jersey says it should go to Mt. Fiji (below); Tara (with Hollywood, bottom) inspired a Bill Jennings poem.

MOUNTAIN IS TOPS

I love Mountain Fiji and think she is the best GLOW wrestler around. It's very rare for someone to be true-blue inside and outside of their sport. I also think it is very wonderful that she raises money for underprivileged children. She is blessed with much talent. In a recent interview, she said that her strength comes from God. Well, God bless her. I'll always be her Number One fan!

Susan Taylor
Passaic NJ

GLOWing RESPONSE

I like GLOW a lot. In fact, I've seen just about every single match on television. I know just about everything there is to know about GLOW. Most people put down GLOW and say that it's dumb and stupid. But I tell them that the GLOW girls are talented and could probably beat most male wrestlers. I also think Ninotchka should be banned from the ring because of all her cheating.

Kirk Stambaugh
Baltimore MD

ANGEL CAKES

As an avid GLOW fan, I just had to sit down and write to my favorite star—Angel. I hope they have many features on you with plenty of color pictures. You are by far the best and sexiest member of GLOW. I just love your outfit! I hope that you'll be touring with GLOW because I just can't wait to see you live.

Chris Monaco
Torrington CT

I DIG DEMENTIA

Since nobody else took the time, I wanted to wish Dementia a happy Halloween and a good Friday the Thirteenth. I watch all of her matches and tape them as well. She is my favorite wrestler. Even though she doesn't talk, I hope she can read this. She brings a new dimension to the sport of wrestling.

ON-THE-ROAD REPORT...

She's

Way—
And She's Mad To
The Max!

BEASTIE THE ROAD WARRIOR—

There's very little we know about this screaming maniac from Down Under, other than the fact that Aunt Kitty keeps her on a diet of raw kangaroo meat. Beastie literally rode into Las Vegas one night, Kitty claims, in the worst looking dune buggy you've ever seen. She parked it directly in front of the Riviera Hotel and went in to terrorize the tourists who were playing the slot machines. When Security got her under control, they delivered her not to the Las Vegas police but rather to Aunt Kitty, who (it is rumored) makes pay-offs to the officers when they bring her somebody who is either berserk or dangerous.

Recently we asked Sir Miles Headlock to interview this future GLOW wrestler, who will be appearing on your television sometime this spring. We feel it's our duty to let you know what you're going to be in for. So without any further ado, we introduce Beastie, the Road Warrior, who literally likes to get right up in your face when she makes conversation.

"AAARRRGHHH!!!"

SIR MILES:

Beastie, is it true that you know Paul Hogan?

BEASTIE:

Aaarrggghhh!!!

SIR MILES:

Is that yes or no?

BEASTIE:

Aaarrggghhh!!!

SIR MILES:

Pardon, is that an Aaarrggghhh with three exclamation points?

BEASTIE:

Aaarrggghhh!!!

SIR MILES:

Okay, I'll take that as a yes. Since you've come to America, have you tried any of the delicious gourmet quiche dishes?

BEASTIE:

Aaarrggghhh!!!

SIR MILES:

Have you attended the wonderful Las Vegas Light Opera?

BEASTIE:

Aaarrggghhh!!!

SIR MILES:

Well, that club you carry seems to be of a similar design invented by Celtic warriors, circa 600 A.D., I believe. I saw one very like it not long ago at the British museum.

BEASTIE:

Aaarrggghhh!!!

SIR MILES:

What do you think of American television?

BEASTIE:

Aaarrggghhh!!!

SIR MILES:

You seem to be a positive woman who feels good about herself. Does this mean you've been reading many of the popular self-help psychology books on the market nowadays, or have you investigated the deeper works of, say, Dr. Albert Ellis, who pioneered the idea that self-actualization through positive reinforcement can overcome any previous feelings of inadequacy?

BEASTIE:

Aaarrggghhh!!!

SIR MILES:

Oh, I see. Can we interpret that to mean Havelock Ellis, the famous British psychologist?

BEASTIE:

Aaarrggghhh!!!

SIR MILES:

That's a very colorful haircut you're wearing there, Beastie. In Australia is that the height of haute coiffure?

BEASTIE:

Aaarrggghhh!!!

SIR MILES:

Hm, interesting. My dear lady, I seem to get the impression . . . call it an intuition if you will, a vague perception, but I feel that, dare I say it, you're a lady of few words.

BEASTIE:

Aaarrggghhh!!!

SIR MILES:

But how lovely they are, as each one trips lightly off your tongue. Just as you, Beastie, are certainly a lovely lass, a veritable paragon of pulchritude.

BEASTIE:

Aaarrggghhh!!!

SIR MILES:

And we certainly thank you for generously sharing some of your incisive and stunning insights with our GLOW readers.

BEASTIE:

Aaarrggghhh!!!•

ONE-ON-ONE HOLLYWOOD

"One-on-One" is your chance to communicate directly with your favorite GLOW wrestlers. Write a letter to the GLOW star of your choice and mail it to GLOW Magazine, 6565 Sunset Boulevard, Suite 520, Hollywood CA 90028. We'll print the best letters in each issue—along with each GLOW girl's response!

Dear Hollywood,
I think you are the only great woman wrestler in GLOW. The rest of them stink. You are the sexiest woman I have ever seen. My so-called friends like that fat, beached whale, Mountain Fiji. She should go jump in one of the Hawaii volcanoes because she is full of hot air. I would like an autographed picture of you. Please write back soon.

I love you.
Gary Septko
Bristol CT

Dear Gary,

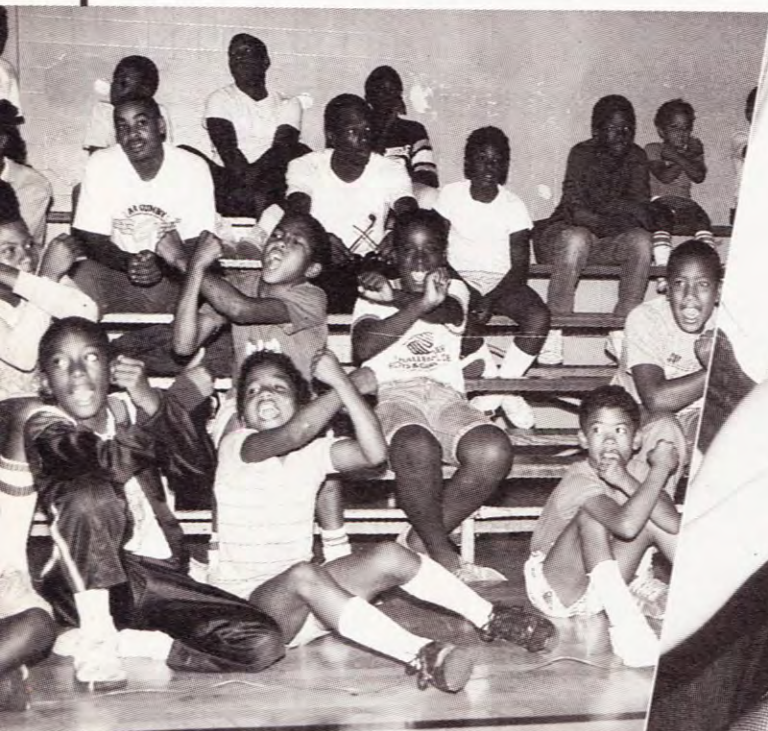

They say that great minds think alike—and I agree with the comments in your dumb letter that I'm the only great wrestler in GLOW. And it's true. The rest of them, except for Vine, stink. Especially Americana, Susie Spirit, Debbie Debutante, Tara, and the rest of those wimps. As for Mt. Fiji, well, I'd like to throw her in one of those volcanoes over in Hawaii—but she probably wouldn't fit! She'd just stop up the hole at the top.

As for my autograph, who do you think you are, asking me for an autograph without even sending me a self-addressed stamped envelope? I don't give nothing away. I'm a street kid, I take what I want, not give what you want. And while you're at it, why don't you join the GLOW fan club? Stop being so cheap. If there were only cheapskates like you out there on the streets of Hollywood, how would I be able to rip anybody off?

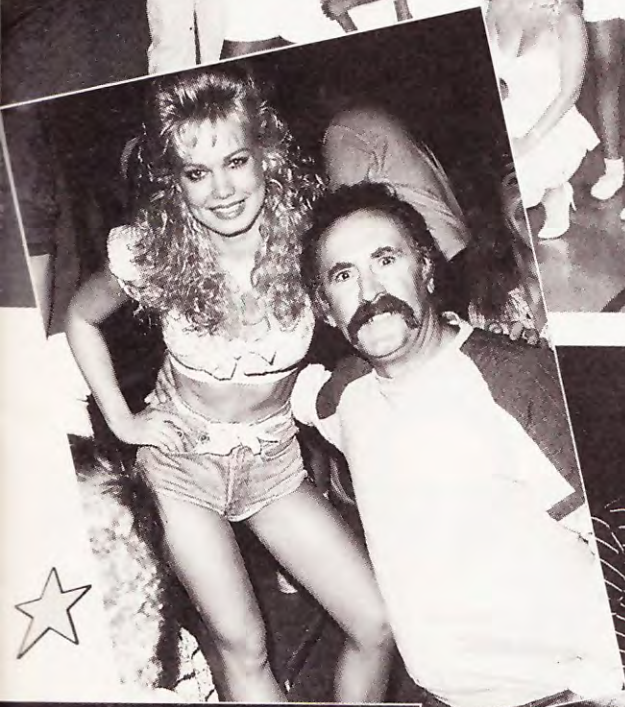

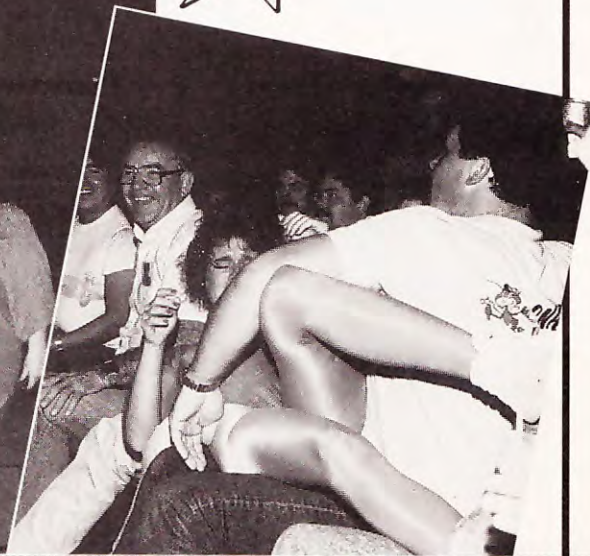

OUR FAVORITE PEOPLE: GLOW FANS

Where would the GLOW girls be without their loyal and devoted fans? Nowhere, that's where. And you won't find a better looking bunch of...well, you won't find a more enthusiastic bunch of fans anywhere than what you see at GLOW matches.

In future issues, we'll be showcasing fans who show up on the GLOW tours. All you gotta do is come to the matches and see your favorite stars. And say cheese!

SPECIAL REPORT

"WHEN THEY WANT MY DECISION, THEY SLAP
IT OUT
OF ME!"

Claims GLOW
Referee
Steve Blance

The American Heritage Dictionary defines referee: "One to whom something is referred, especially for settlement or decision." But in the GLOW Dictionary, the word might just as well mean, "A human punching bag; one to whom insults are referred." Or as Aunt Kitty once told him, "If we want your decision, we'll slap it out of you!" Refereeing isn't an easy job when you're put in a ring with GLOW's fighting hellcats.

In fact, Referee Steve Blance says it would probably be easier being thrown into a cage of lionesses.

Though Susie Spirit treats him nice (below), Ref Blance otherwise gets no respect in the ring.

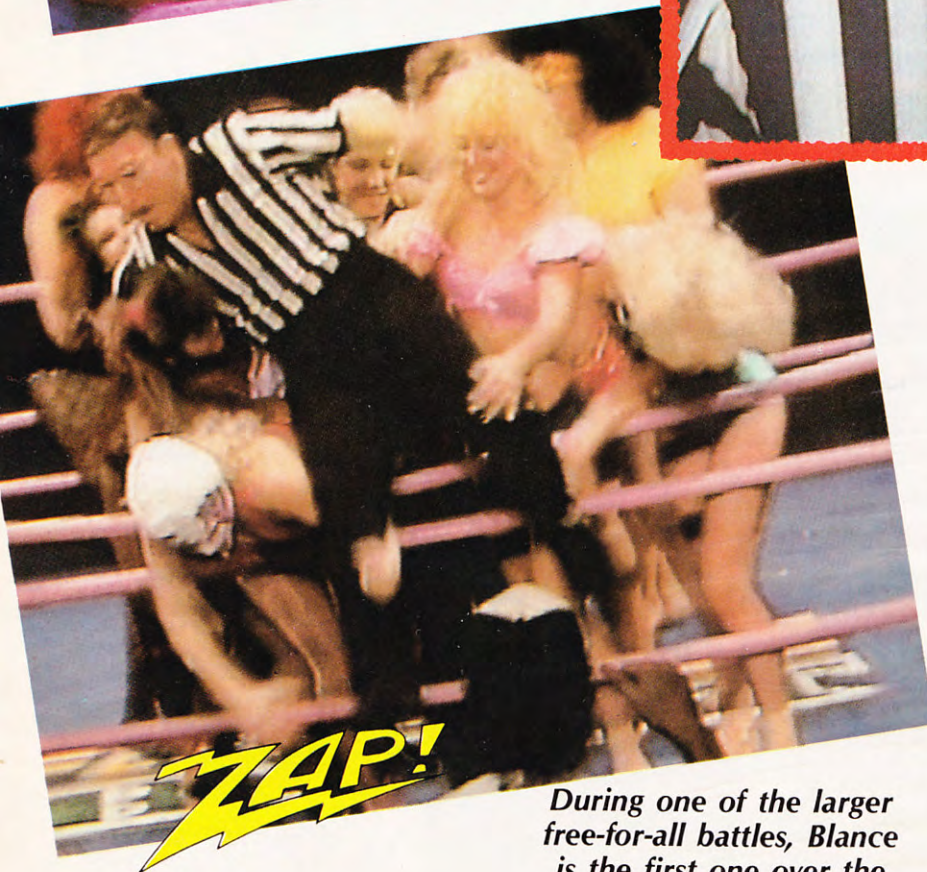

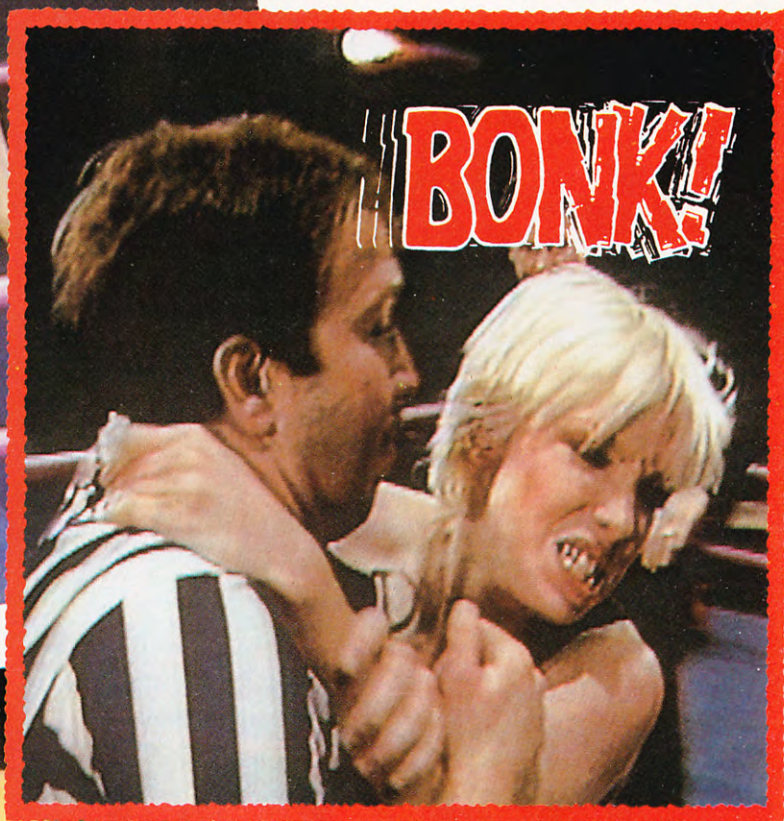

SPLAT!

CRUNCH!

Ninotchka (below, left) treats the ref with the same contempt she treats everyone else.

BONK!

ZAP!

During one of the larger free-for-all battles, Blance is the first one over the ropes!

There are of course normal dangers of reffing. For instance, let's say Mt. Fiji has fallen across Ninotchka's chest, hoping to pin her. Steve naturally crouches down near Ninotchka's head so that he can see if her shoulders are being pinned. Suddenly the mad Russian musters enough strength to jerk her body up and roll Mt. Fiji's mountainous volume. . .you guessed it! Right on top of Ref Blance.

"Nothing else I know," he claims, "weighs heavier on your mind than having Mt. Fiji landing on top of your head. See these lines in my forehead? They're not signs of age. Those came from the mat my face was mashed against!"

Another natural mishap is when one wrestler tries a flying kick or a flying cross—and the intended victim ducks out of the way, exposing...you guessed it again! Boom! Down goes the ref. Occasionally he'll even be behind somebody who's knocked backwards. "You can see I'm not a big guy. Most of these girls tower over me, and some of 'em outweigh me by a few pounds. Being in there with 'em is sometimes like being caught in an eight-point earthquake."

"Nothing else I know weighs heavier on your mind than having Mt. Fiji landing on top of your head!"

But to make matters worse, the bad girls take pot shots at him whenever they get the chance. "Corporal Kelly has always been one of the worst. I think she hates me. Or maybe I remind her of a crybaby recruit. Anyway, I've still got bruises and bite marks from her. Now it's part of my contract that I get tetanus and rabies shots after every match she's in."

"And there's Manna the Headhunter. She swings into the ring like Tarzan and kicks at every head she sees."

Then there are the sneaky ones, like Hollywood and Vine, who creep around the ring and sometimes launch a hit 'n' run attack against the ref. "These are basically dangerous people. You have to keep in mind that I'm not paid to wrestle and I haven't been trained for it. These girls work every day for months and years to tone their bodies and learn how to fall and absorb all the shock their bodies get. Not me. I'm like a big target out there. And these girls know it. I almost have to have eyes in the back of my head."

Even more dangerous are the wrestlers who go out of control...or were never in control to begin with. "Dementia always scares the daylights out of me because there's simply no mind there. She's pure instinct. I don't even know how Aunt Kitty managed to teach her those moves. If you're standing there in front of her when she gets going, she doesn't distinguish you from another wrestler or, say, a block of wood. It's that block of wood that scares me!

"You must remember that Security is usually behind the seats, and between the time I or the announcer calls for them and the time they actually get up into the ring and save my skin, I have to fend for myself. Having Dementia stumble at you with a raised ax, or seeing Chainsaw and Spike converging on you with a Black & Decker and a blowtorch, or being chased around by the Housewives with buckets of caustic floor cleaner...it's a pretty scary business."

Steve remembers actually being picked up by Corporal Kelly and thrown completely out of the ring. "Picture Kelly standing there holding me above her head. It's not a pretty picture."

Some of the toll is mental. It's bad enough being constantly baited by Aunt Kitty, who considers it part of her job as manager of the bad girls to distract him every chance she gets, so that her girls can cheat and use dirty tricks on their opponents without being disqualified. But when Princess of Darkness hypnotizes you with her Mojo Bone and has you running blindly around the ring like an idiot, that's enough! "Whenever she's around, I always hum to myself, so that I can't hear her chants," he says. "And I never look at that bone straight on. I have to turn my head away at all times, so that I only see it out of the corner of my eye. But then, that allows her to use more illegal tricks without me seeing them."

Still, the job does have its compensations. He blissfully remembers being kissed by Susie Spirit, who has a deep compassion for the underdog. "I was feeling so miserable after being chased by Dementia and slapped around by the Soul Patrol and sneak-attacked by Vine, I must've looked like a whipped dog. And I guess that just brought out Susie's maternal, protective instincts."

"It's a rough job, but somebody has to be in there, trying to keep order. Otherwise there's chaos. If you give some of these girls an inch, they'll take your watch, your wallet...even your life! I know Matt Dillon didn't enjoy having to keep the peace in Dodge City, but he knew there was a job to do. That's how I feel about being a GLOW ref!" •

"It's part of my contract that I get tetanus and rabies shots after every match Corporal Kelly's in!"

A certain Palestinian terrorist was spotted slithering around the high-stakes roulette wheel. That's her idea of a fun sport—watching wealthy gamblers squander their fortunes! I won't say she's bad luck but when she goes up to a spinning wheel, it stops and starts spinning in the other direction!

ALL A-GLOW!

Everyone's going crazy trying to guess the identity of DEMENTIA's Secret Admirer. It seems a fanatical young man has been sending fruit baskets and balloon bouquets to the Demented One, along with mush mash notes, asking her for a date. The notes are signed simply "Mr. Romantic" and include a phone number for her to call so they can make plans to meet. Well, as everyone knows, Dementia isn't the most verbal person around, so it's unknown how she'll respond. You can bet if and when they do get together, this would-be, mystery lover is bound to lose his head!

Hope you all got to catch my TV sitcom debut this season on NBC's hit, "We Got It Made." The episode, which was about women's wrestling, featured SUSIE SPIRIT and myself playing a "good" tag-team, pitted against NINOTCHKA and HOLLYWOOD as the bad-dies. It was a real acting stretch for all of us, believe me! Now that I've had my taste of Tinsel Town, I must admit it was a lot tougher than I thought it'd be. Do you know how exhausting it is to sit around eating donuts all day, waiting to do a scene? Golly! I think I'll just stick to what I know best...wrestling and being pampered!

ANGEL THE BIKER

CHICK almost got her license yanked when a cop caught her doing wheelies down a railroad track. That darned Angel had better learn that a license to drive is not a license to kill! Suppose a train had come along and hit her? Why, the passengers on board might easily have gotten injured or worse, bouncing off Angel's Harley! That girl has no common sense!

LITTLE EGYPT

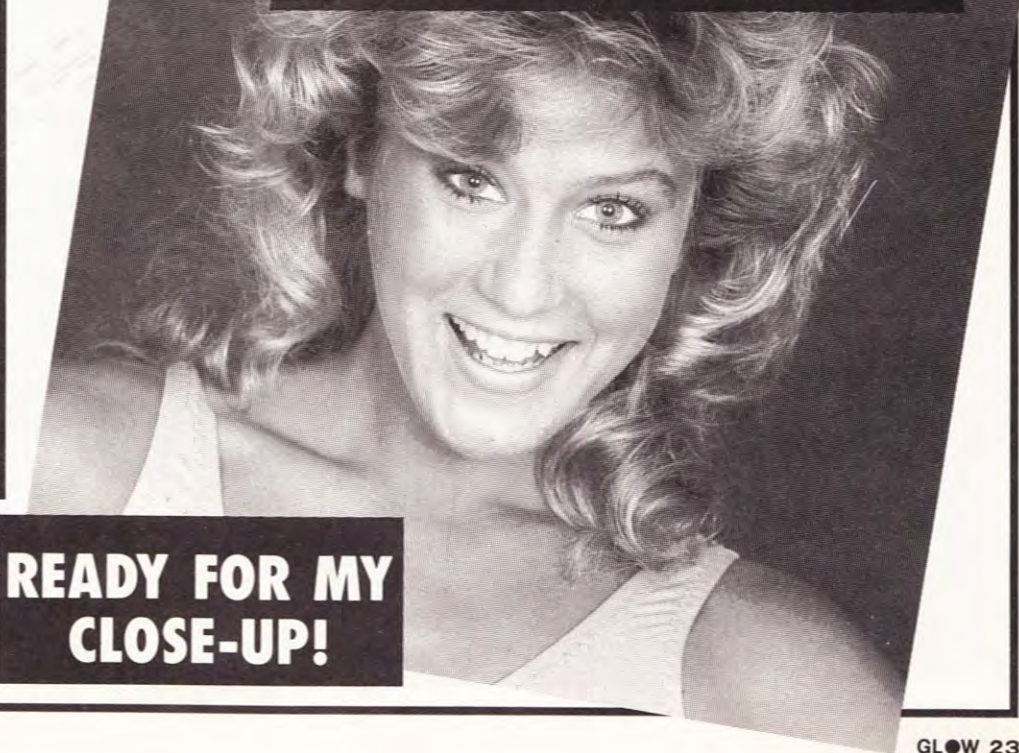

's been giving belly dance lessons to the wife of an undisclosed super-rich world leader. Rumors abound that the wiggling and writhing wife is either Mrs. Khadafi or Queen Noor of Jordan, but I wonder...could it be Nancy Reagan? Just askin'!

THE SOUL PATROL

traveled back to their old Chicago neighborhood recently, where they were greeted by angry sign-carrying protestors who accused the girls of "extreme barbarianism" and "setting bad examples for America's youth." The scene made a huge impression on ENVY and ADORE. They got all misty-eyed and said the crowd's reaction was really meaningful to them—"even better than getting the key to the city!" As a fitting tribute to their local heroines, the Cabrini Green Post Office hung their pictures on the wall!

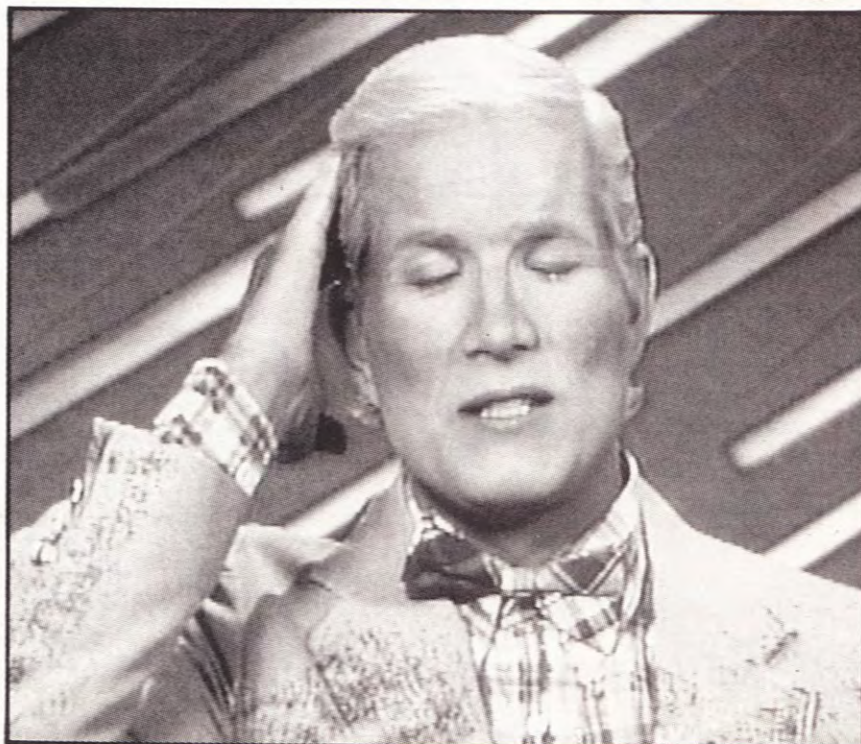

READY FOR MY CLOSE-UP!

THE DRY WIT OF

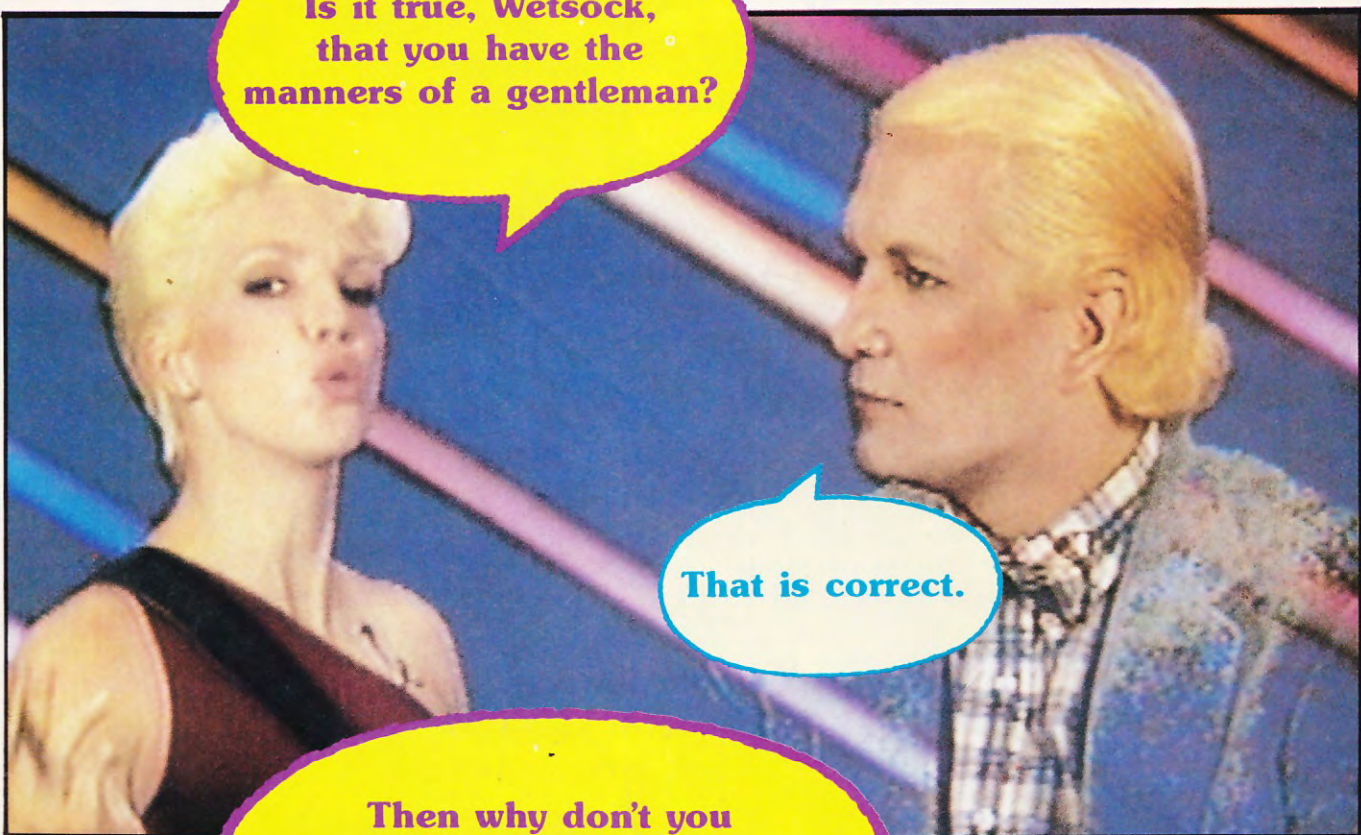

Sir Miles Headlock

The GLOW girls are capable of tossing insults and put-downs around as easily as they throw each other around the ring. If you're thinskin and slowwitted, you better not get in a shouting match with these sharp-tongued tangles.

That's why the GLOW programmers spared no expense when they put together Sir Miles Headlock's memory banks—they're reputed to contain 50 Ks of snappy one-liners alone. When the computer-generated gentleman from Britain goes head to head and toe to toe (figuratively speaking, of course) with the feisty GLOW girls, he can usually hold his own (even though there's really nothing of his own to hold). He certainly can't hold his tongue, as you will see in the following exchanges we witnessed:

Is it true, Wetsock, that you have the manners of a gentleman?

That is correct.

Then why don't you give them back to him?
Do you know what we would call you in Soviet Union?

I'm afraid you have me there. What would you call me in Russia?

A political prisoner.

Ha Ha Ha.
With a wit like yours,
Ninotchka, you could almost cut hot butter.

Do not get me started.
I am only treating you with kid gloves, Deadpock.

That's Headlock.
I'm certain the only person you ever treated with kid gloves was a fingerprint expert.

SIR MILES HEADLOCK

Very funny.
I am laughing.

Is that what it is?
I thought someone was dragging a cat backwards through a briar patch.
Ha Ha Ha Ha!

Ha! Your jokes are as easy to see through as you are, Leadjock!
What do you think of my expensive Cuban cigar?

It's rather the type of cigar that leaves
one smellbound.
But I daresay you really don't need it. You blow smoke quite well without it.

I am going to find computer program that creates you and throw it off a 300 foot cliff.

SIR MILES HEADLOCK

Sounds like a big bluff to me, my dear.
Ha Ha Ha Ha.

ONE-ON-ONE

SPANISH RED

"One-on-One" is your chance to communicate directly with your favorite GLOW wrestlers. Write a letter to the GLOW star of your choice and mail it to GLOW Magazine, 6565 Sunset Boulevard, Suite 520, Hollywood CA 90028. We'll print the best letters in each issue—along with each GLOW girl's response!

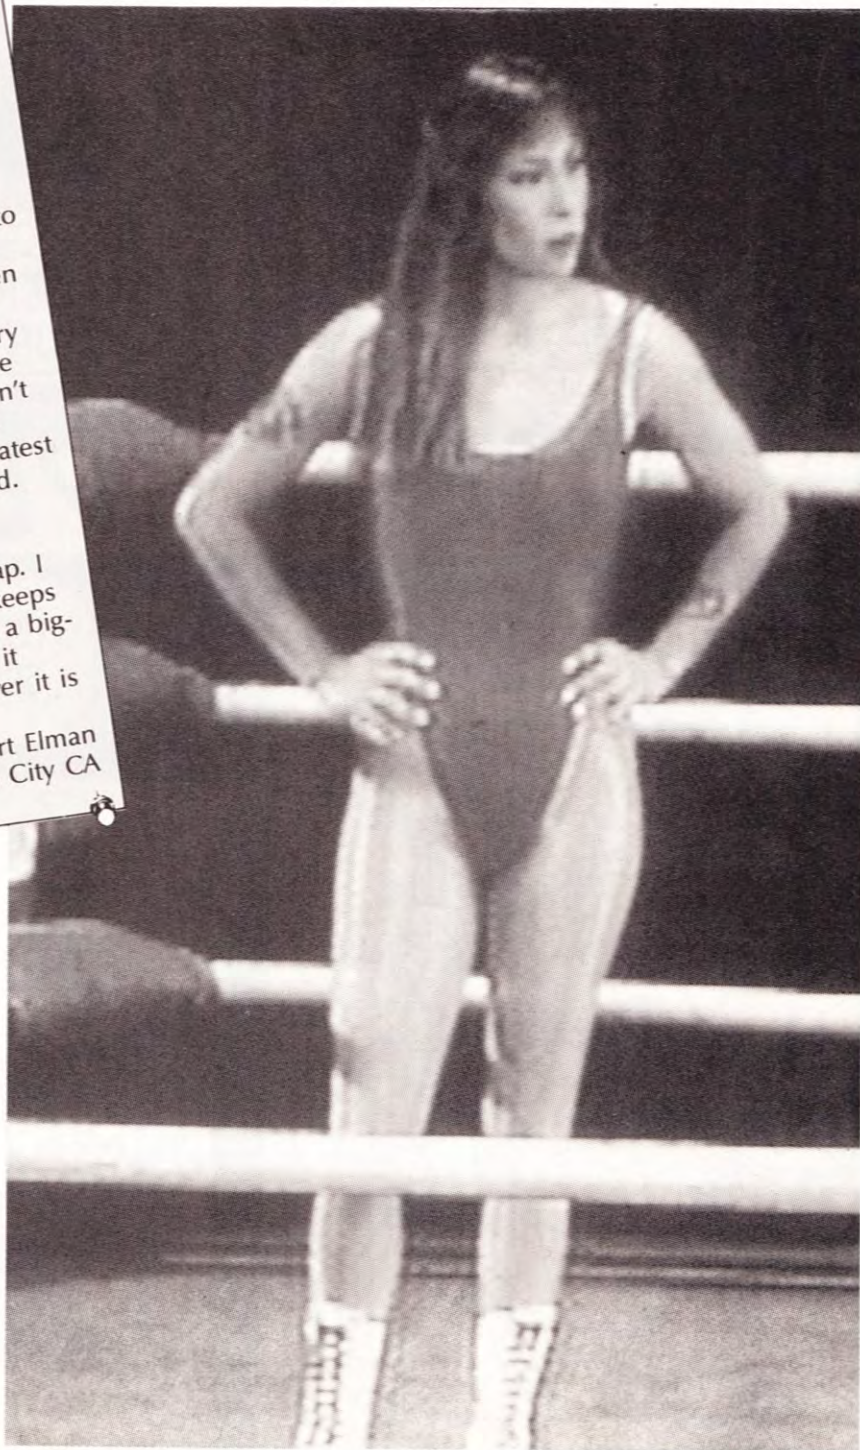

Dear Spanish Red,
Just who do you think you are, saying that California belongs to Mexico? Where do you get off, lady? I was born in California and my Mom was born here. California has been a state for over 100 years. And no matter how many illegal aliens Mexico sneaks across our borders, California will always belong to the good ol' U.S.A. And do you know why? Because when Mexicans come here, they realize how great this country is and they want to stay here and be Americans. They don't want to go back to Mexico because the U.S. is the greatest country in the whole world. Take a look at Mexico's economy, lady!

So just shut your big yap. I don't know why GLOW keeps you around, you're such a big-mouth! If you don't like it here, go back to wherever it is you came from.

Stuart Elman

You Anglo Pig,

Why don't you go back to where you came from, you stinking.... You got me so mad I want to spit! How dare you talk like that to me? Any idiot should know the Americans robbed California away from Mexico. You stink! You make me want to....you're just stupid is all, you nitwit, you clown, you....I bet you even look stupid! That's what I think of you. And do you know why? Because you're an idiot! You should be lined up against the wall and shot! I spit on you! You are really an idiot, you pea-brain!

TAG TEAM TANGLERS

Hollywood & Vine vs. Debbie Debutante & Vicki Victory

In this main event, those cheerfully terrific Cheerleaders, Debbie and Vicki, get ambushed by boulevard bullies Hollywood and Vine. Used to terrorizing streetcorners in the City of Hollywood, H & V (as they call themselves) carry their dirty tactics into the ring like a couple of bad-rep reprobates (which in fact they are). Even before the bell rings, the Tinseltown toughs gang up on Debbie with a flurry of kicks, tricks and illegal holds.

VILLAINOUS VINE vs DEBBIE DEBUTANTE

GLOW
GORGEOUS LADIES OF WRESTLING

EXCLUSIVE COVERAGE:

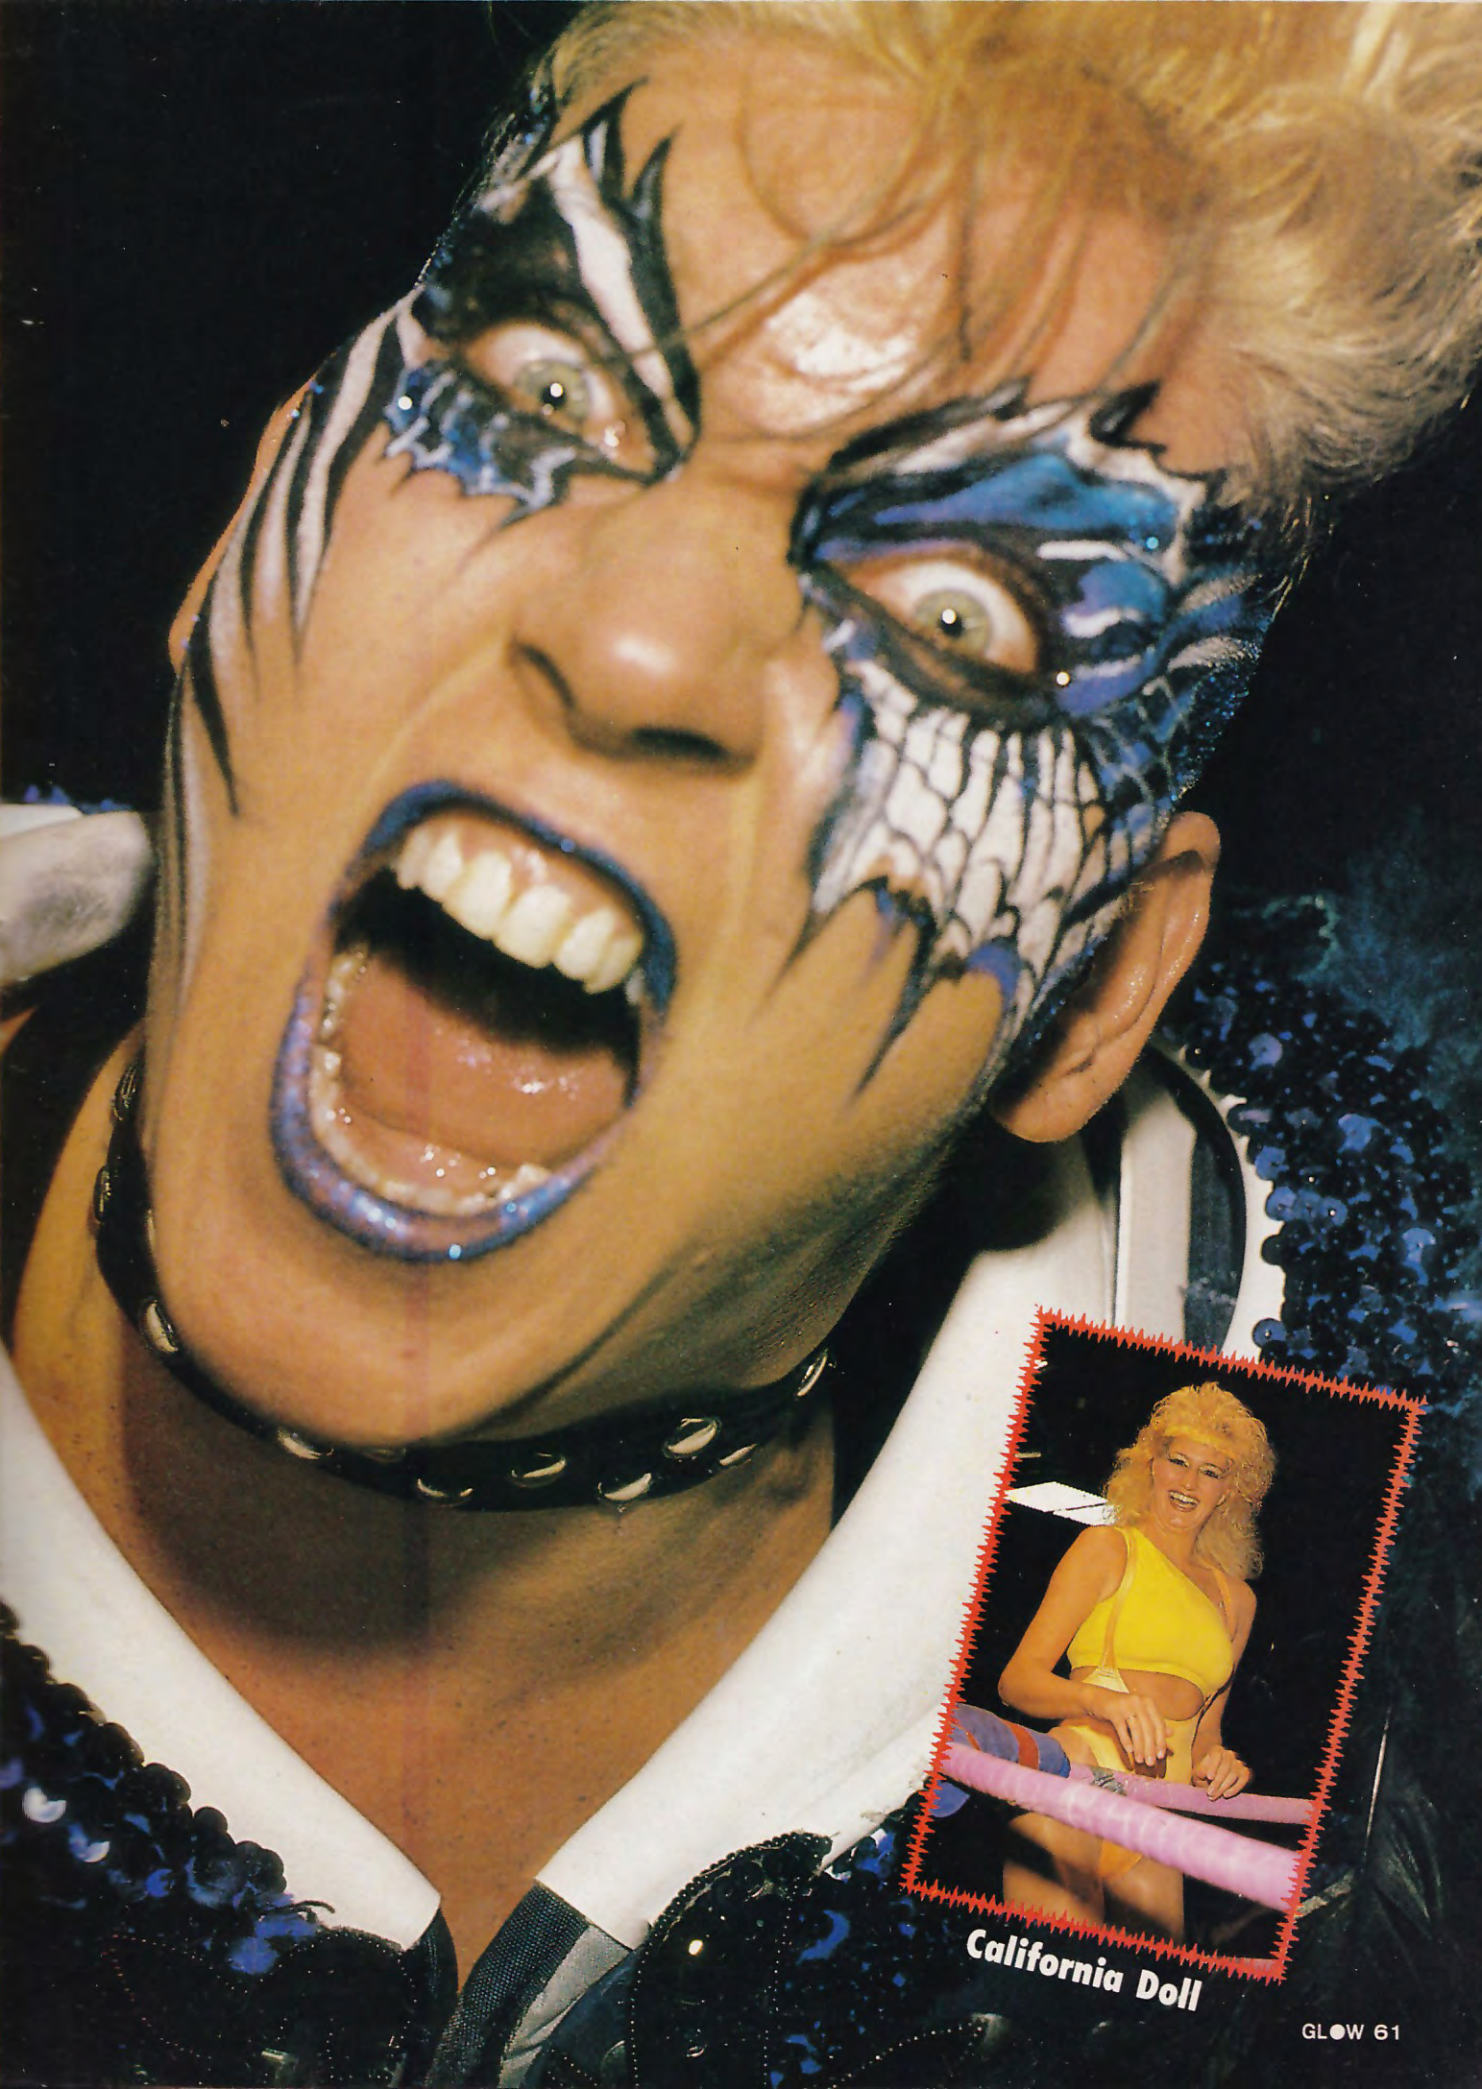

China is known for it's chinaware and India is known for indiaware, but is Down Under (Australia) known for its underwear? Not if Beastie the Road Warrior has anything to say about it.

Hailing from the Outback, she's very upfront about her belief that she is destined to be Australia's most well known export. "Mel Gibson and Paul Hogan, you wanna know what I think about those wimps?" Beastie says in the loud, belligerent growl that passes for her voice. "Aaarrggghh!!!"

It's clear that Beastie wants her GLOW opponents to think of her as the hell-bound-for-leather wrestler from Down Below, not Down Under. Not only is this ostentatious Aussie outrageous in her behavior; she's also downright mean, manic and mad to the max.

And she's quite visibly angry—dare we say P.O.ed—that she has to wrestle California Doll, a girl who represents everything she hates: surf, sunshine and smiling faces. Especially smiling faces. "When I see a smiling face, I like to smash it or sit on it!" Beastie grumbles in one of her rare articulate moments. Then, as an afterthought, to remind us that she's not getting soft on us, Beastie pushes her sour puss into our faces and screams, "AAARRRGGGHHH!!!"

BEASTIE'S FIRST GLOW MATCH (vs. the California Doll)

California Doll

Always the taste-conscious connoisseur, Beastie dines on California Doll's wrist before tossing her into the ropes.

Though Beastie has a svelte, demure frame, she's capable of picking up California Doll and throwing her out of the ring.

No ifs, ands or buts—well, no ifs or ands—about it, when Beastie reverts to animal behavior, it's time to call in Security!

SUSIE SPIRIT'S WINNING MOVE!

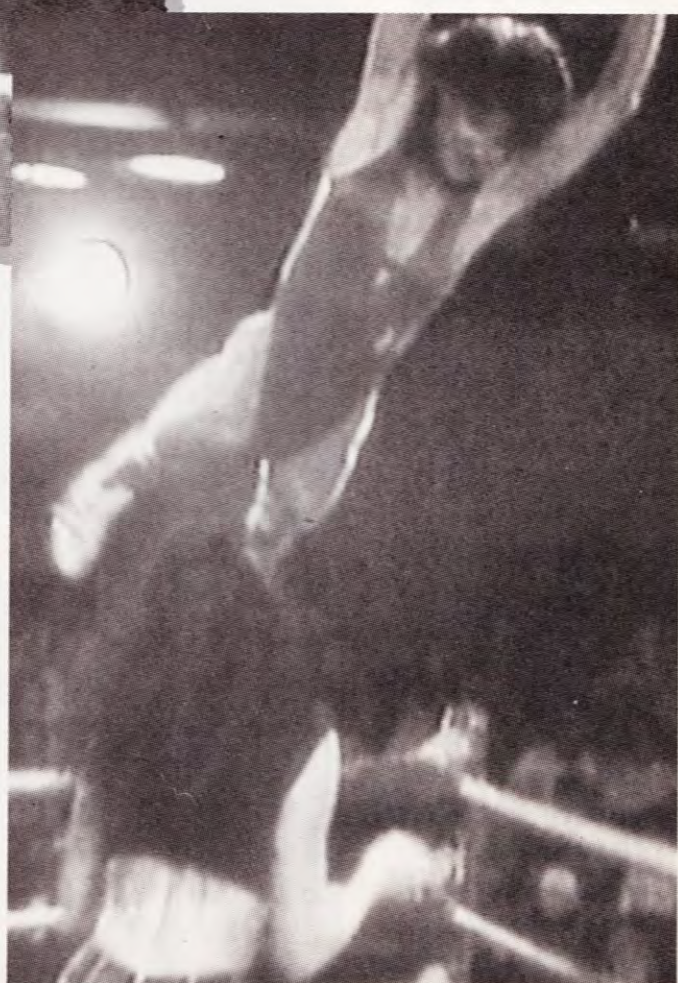

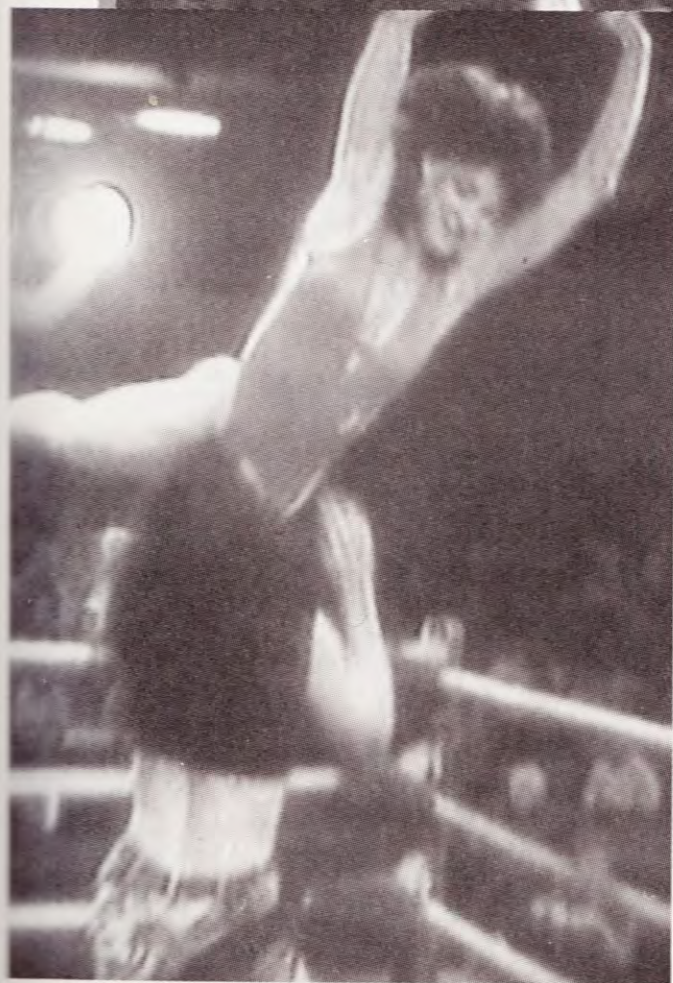

The Flying Cross

"To pin your opponent effectively, I think you have to first knock the wind out of her," says Susie Spirit in a calm, delicate voice that sounds as if she's discussing her favorite recipe for chocolate chip cookies. "That's why I came up with the Flying Cross. I want to put them out of commission for as long as it takes the referee to count to three."

But this winning move can sometimes backfire, Susie's quick to add.

"If I haven't worn down my opponent by that point, she might still be agile enough to sidestep me, and when that happens I'm flying without a parachute and there's only one place to land: the mat. You can get hurt if you're not careful."

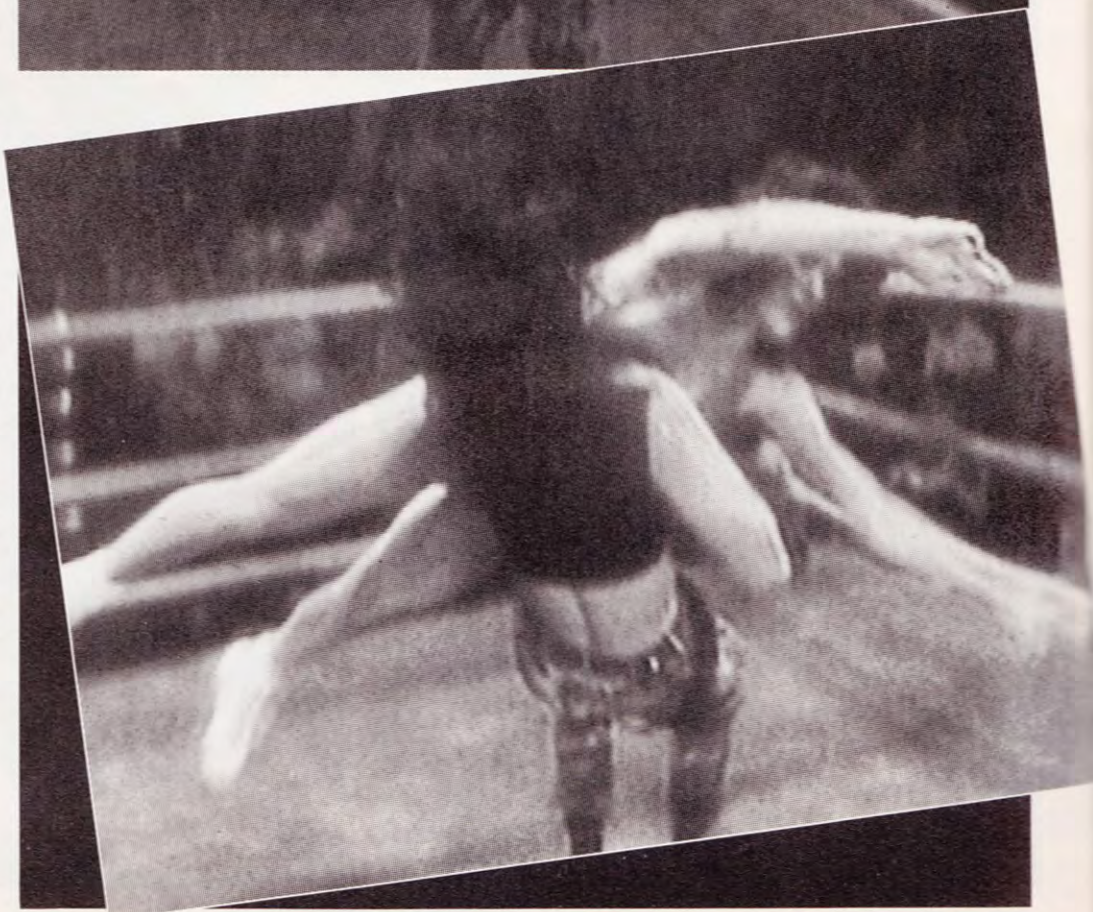

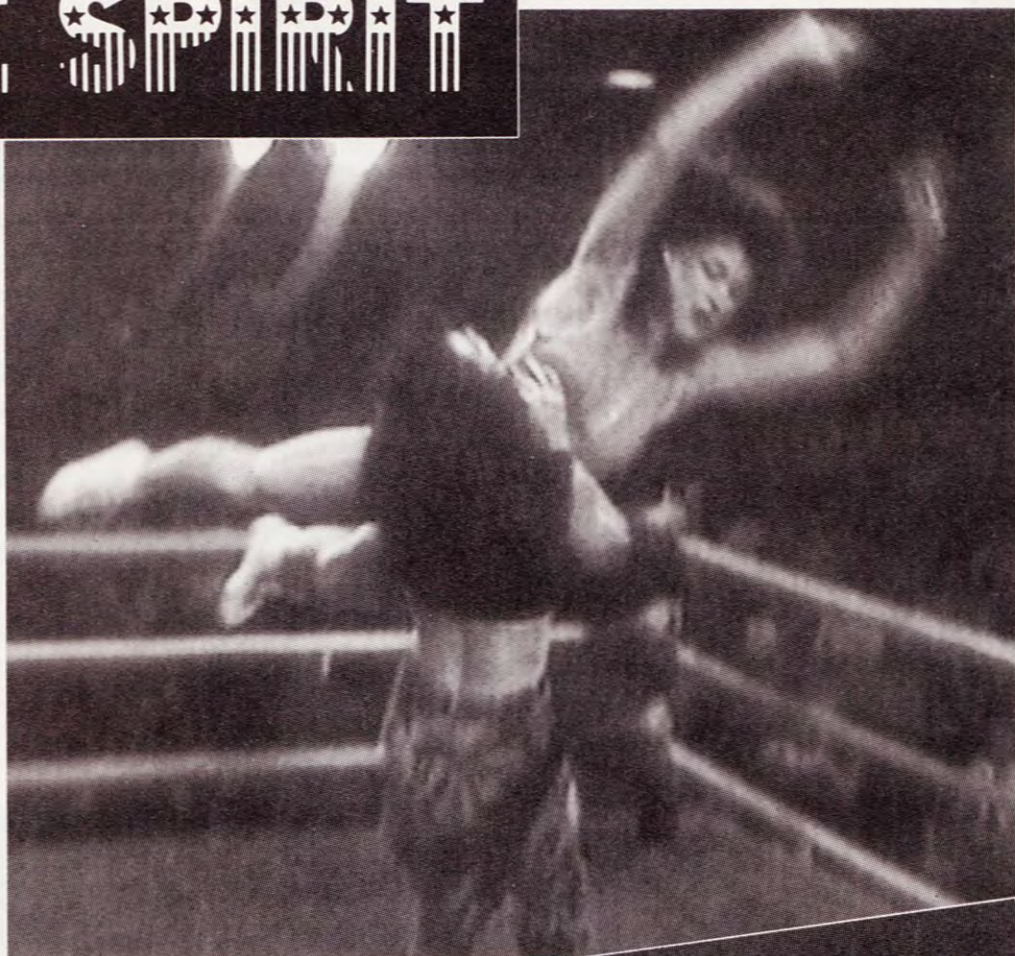

SUSIE SPIRIT

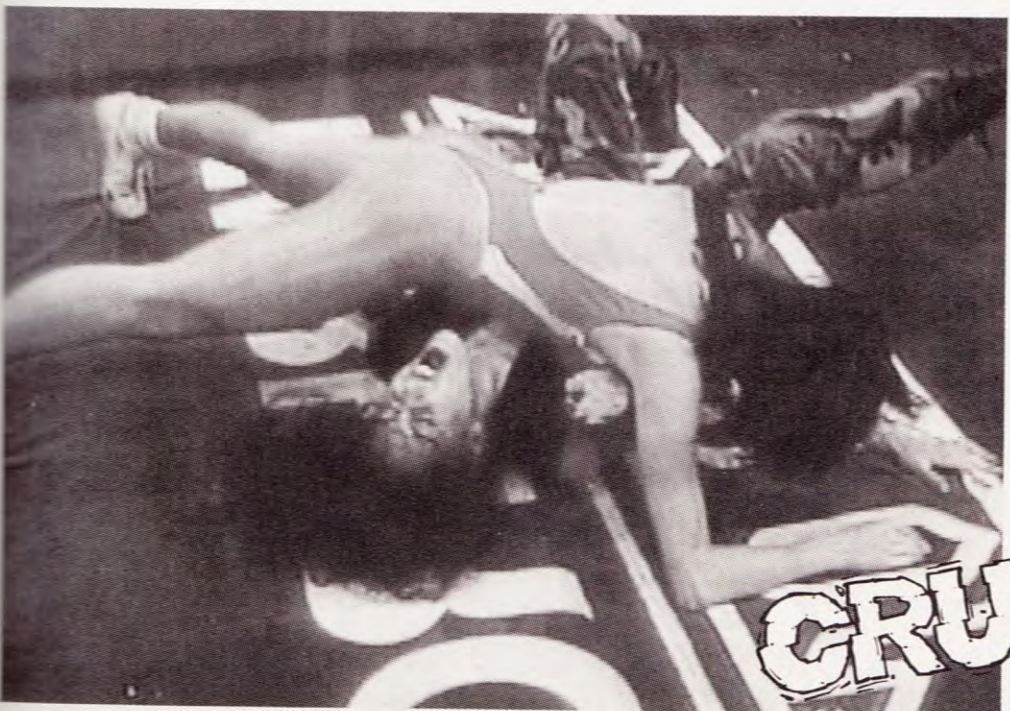

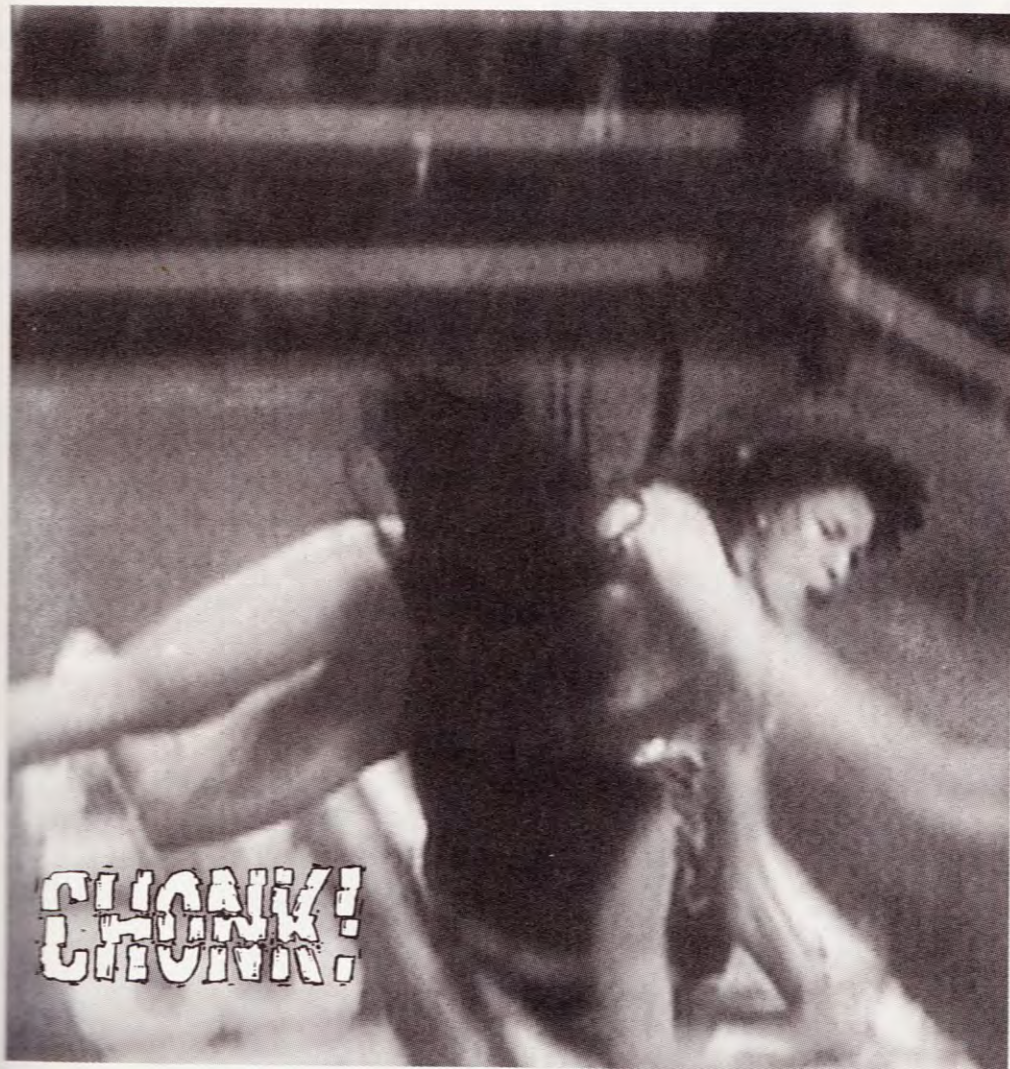

In other words, Susie first has to soften up the other girl.

When she's finally ready for the kill, Susie moves into one of the corners, jumps up on the top turnbuckle, and dives at her groggy opponent as if she's leaping out of an airplane. Controlling her balance in midair, Susie turns her body until she's perpendicular to the other wrestler at the moment of impact.

"She gets the full force of my torso," says Susie. "My momentum plus my weight drop her like a ton of bricks, and when we land it's like 250 pounds are slamming her to the mat. That usually finishes them. By the time they get their breath back, the match is over!"

How can Susie Spirit talk so heartlessly about pounding GLOW girls into the mat?

"Easy," she answers. "We're talking about a heartless breed of wrestler. When you're up against people like Ninotchka, Hollywood and Vine, the Heavy Metal Sisters, and others of their ilk, you can't let up, you gotta be heartless, because each and every one of them is dirty and cheating, and if you don't pin them quick, they can hurt you. I don't like being mean, but I'm really in a mean business . . . with a bunch of mean girls. The only thing they respect is something like a Flying Cross coming at 'em!" •

TACTICAL MANEUVERS....

INTERVIEW BY SNEED HEARN

Corporal Kelly Braggs

Trying to get Corporal Kelly to sit down for an interview is like trying to hold a cat by its back feet. Fortunately, I was able to get the nasty non-com to at least pace back and forth in a small room when we brought up the subject of Mountain Fiji, her pet peeve. For a good five minutes this angry E-4 ranted and raved into my tape recorder.

GLOW: You're very restless, Corporal.

CPL. KELLY:

You're an idiot, Private! Pull those shoulders back when you talk to me. And pull in that gut!

GLOW: Is it true that you like to hit your opponents whenever they're not looking?

CPL. KELLY:

That's a dirty lie.

GLOW: Well, according to the videotape—it's on tape—after one opponent beat you fair and square, you kicked her in the....

CPL. KELLY:

Don't you understand? That tape was tampered with! Experts can move things around, edit the video! I'm leaving, Private!

GLOW: Wait, aren't you gonna answer what Mt. Fiji's said about you?

CPL. KELLY:

What? What has that tub of lard said about me?

GLOW: She says when she gets her hands on you, she's gonna tear your head off and spit on your brain!

CPL. KELLY:

Let me tell you about

"I'M GONNA MAKE
MT. FIJI'S
FAT HEAD
GO SPLAT
& HER FAT
BODY GO SPLOOEY!"

SPLOOEY!

that blimp! She's so outa shape she couldn't lick an ice cream cone. If there's two things I hate, Mt. Fiji is both of 'em!

GLOW: What don't you like about her?

CPL. KELLY:

She's too fat, in the first place. She's too fat in the second place, too! She's been eating too many coconuts. She's starting to look like a coconut, except that coconuts are better looking. In fact, I hear she's on a coconut and banana diet. It hasn't done anything for her weight, but she can sure climb trees!

GLOW: Mt. Fiji told me recently that she's really a light eater.

CPL. KELLY:

Yeah, yeah. When it gets light, she starts eating. Mt. Fiji is what I call the original Oomph Girl. When she sits down on the couch, the cushions go Ooomph!

GLOW: Many GLOW viewers claim she's got a million dollar figure!

CPL. KELLY:

I'll agree with that. It's too bad inflation set in. You want my opinion?

GLOW: I have a feeling you'll give it anyway.

CPL. KELLY:

Don't get smart with me, Private, or I'll make you drop and give me 25 pushups. And when I make you drop, you drop! Anyway, my opinion is, Mt. Fiji should get out of wrestling and go into modeling. I understand they need people to model those tarps they use to cover vehicles.

Kelly shows GLOW magazine's art director, Pam Carr, what she's gonna do to Mt. Fiji.

SPLOOEY!

GLOW: I've heard men say that she takes their breath away.

CPL. KELLY:

Ha! She'd take anybody's breath away—if she sat on 'em! That tub needs some basic training. I'd send her to Parris Island. I heard she took off ten pounds not long ago by riding horseback, but it was the horse that lost the 10 pounds, not her!

GLOW: Would you say that Mt. Fiji is a pretty lady, despite her girth?

CPL. KELLY:

Well, she's pretty in a way. Way way off! Listen, on the day she was born, her father took one look at her and ran down to the zoo to throw rocks at the stork!

GLOW: I've been told she's got everything a real man would want.

CPL. KELLY:

Yeah, yeah, she does. She's got a mustache and big muscles.

GLOW: She has long, beautiful black hair.

CPL. KELLY:

Yeah, and she wears gloves to cover it. The last time I saw her, she said, "I heard what you said about me. I want you to look me in the face and say that." I told her, "I'm a war vet. I've already seen too much horror!"

GLOW: That's not a nice thing to say about such a wonderful lady as Mt. Fiji. She has the face of a saint.

CPL. KELLY:

Yeah, a Saint Bernard.

GLOW: Come on now, Corporal. Her looks are very striking.

CPL. KELLY:

I agree, but how many times have they been struck, Private?

GLOW: She has a very nice looking nose.

CPL. KELLY:

Yeah, as noses run.

GLOW: And she has magnetic eyes.

CPL. KELLY:

Yeah, and one of them always points due north!

GLOW: And she cuts quite a figure in her bright kimono.

CPL. KELLY:

She cuts quite a figure alright—when she sits on a piece of broken glass!

GLOW: Most viewers look up to Mt. Fiji.

CPL. KELLY:

Where else are they gonna look? They can't look around her. When Mt. Fiji sits around the wrestling ring, she sits around the ring. If she gets into an elevator, it had better be going down.

GLOW: Do you feel confident that you can whip her in the ring?

CPL. KELLY:

Confident!!! All I gotta do is knock her on her big bottom one time. Then she'll rock herself to sleep just trying to get back up! Let me tell you something, Private. That woman is living far beyond her seams. The way she eats, it's no wonder she gets thick to her stomach.

GLOW: She told me she lost five pounds.

CPL. KELLY:

She should look behind her—they're hiding back there somewhere.

GLOW: So, are you looking forward to meeting Mt. Fiji in a grudge match?

CPL. KELLY:

Looking forward to it? I'm dying for it. When I get hold of that tub, I'll make her fat head go splat and her fat body go splooney. Have you seen photos of the Hindenburg crash? That's what it's gonna be like! Mt. Fiji, if you are out there reading this, you fathead, I'm daring you right now to meet me in the ring. I promise to fight you fair and square.

GLOW: Are you sure you'd fight Mt. Fiji fair and square?

CPL. KELLY:

What are you saying, Private? Are you trying to say I fight dirty?

GLOW: Well, it's been hinted at.

CPL. KELLY:

Who's that behind you?

GLOW: Where?

[BLAP!!] •

ON THE SCENE REPORT...

by Dawna
Kaufmann

Like Cheech Marin, Spanish Red was "Born in East L.A." And many indignities that befell Cheech in the movie have also befallen GLOW's chika fire-cracker. "I was always getting picked up and deported to Tijuana," she complains. "The federales just assumed I was an illegal! They demanded to see my green card, which I didn't have because I'm an American citizen!"

Her voice raises as she goes on. "Sure, I'm Hispanic, but I was born here in the barrio and I'm a citizen just like you! But would they believe me? Nooooo! Next thing you know, I'm 86'd down to T.J. and left to find my way back over the border."

Okay, okay, so life hasn't been a bowl of menudo for Spanish Red. Her family situation was a sad fact of too many kids and not enough money. Or, as she's quick to tell you, "When I was a little kid, we were so poor we had to eat pictures of food outa magazines!"

Discussions of her family life invariably lead to angry comparisons. "Mountain Fiji and Little Fiji make me sick 'cause they're such close sisters," she snipes, "but they don't know the meaning of 'close.' Try sharing a bed with five sisters—four of 'em bedwetters! That's close!" Damp, too!

Sure, poverty can embitter a person, but the chip on Spanish Red's shoulder is so big it could be broken into enough pieces to keep the city of El Monte in nachos for a year. "While Susie Spirit and Debbie Debutante were going to sock hops, I was hopping on cockroaches, in my socks!" she shrieks. "And while Tara the Southern Belle trotted around on her plantation on her pony, the only pet I had was a porcupine! I'd like to see her ride one of them!"

Whatever is responsible for Spanish Red's internal rage, one thing is clear: She has a special hatred reserved for fellow GLOW wrestlers. She says it's because the other girls treat her like a second-class

SPANISH RED... She's been called a hothead, a cheat, and GLOW's Number One Sour-Puss. In or out of the ring, her bad attitude is always on display. But I had to wonder if, beneath all that bluster and belligerence, there just might be a kind, sensitive soul, longing to be loved. I got my answer: a big, fat NO!

SPANISH RED: Is She Mad Or Just Plain MAD At The World?

YOW!

CHUNK! CHUNK!

OOMP! HHH!

When Spanish Red goes into one of her rages, the Farmer's Daughter doesn't have a chance against her (above).

As usual it's bottoms up as Spanish Red pins California Doll hands (and shoulders) down.

BOING!

KZON!!!

"While Debbie Debutante went to sock hops, I was hopping on cockroaches in my socks!"

citizen. "The way they discriminate against me is disgusting," she grouses. "Like the time it was my turn to cook for everybody. I chose to make an authentic Mexican stew and they all boycotted it! Why? Because it's made from tripe! Estupido! I mean, haven't you eaten a cow's stomach lining before?"

Luckily, there is no time to answer before she continues her tirade. "Those other GLOW wimps act like I'm different and make fun of my native customs. They say I'm weird 'cause I save my old Kleenexes. But I know if you collect enough of them, you can make a lovely wedding gown, so the joke's on them!"

Uh-huh. Speaking of jokes, I mention having heard Envy and Adore, the Soul Patrol, claim that Spanish Red has no sense of humor. "Huh! What do they know about humor? The only thing funny about them is their faces!" Catching her breath, she adds, "I happen to love a good laugh. Hey, I'll tell you my favorite joke: How many gringos does it take to change a light bulb? Only one—he'll get out his East L.A. phone book, hire a poor, starving illegal electrician for the job, and then forget to pay him! Hah!" (Guess that explains why we don't see Spanish Red at the comedy clubs too often!)

All jokes aside, Spanish Red gets even more serious when the conversation rolls around to her California homeland. Flames ignite her eyes as she explains, "This state belongs to my people. That's evident from the names of the cities: Los Angeles—City of Angels, San Francisco, Santa Monica, Sacramento, Cucamonga, Pacoima, West Covina, Lompoc!

"Listen, frijole brain, I may've been born in East L.A., but the blood of Spanish conquistadors runs through my veins!" Well, this is something I haven't heard before, so I listen up as she rambles on.

"My great ancestor, Pablo Miguel de la Cruz Garcia, was an explorer in the 16th Century. He was Balboa's navigator, and the one who really discovered the Pacific Ocean. Balboa had no sense of direction—he thought they were in Lake Michigan! But Balboa was the one with an agent, so he got all the credit.

"Another great ancestor, Juan Carlos Hernando Benitez, served as chef to General Santa Ana at the Alamo, where they taught a few things to Davy Crockett and Jim Bowie. Juan Carlos stayed behind and opened a fast food restaurant. But he was killed in an accident at his taco stand when he fell into a grating machine and got made into a fajita! Personally, I've always figured some jealous Anglo pushed him in," she hisses maniacally.

"My great-grandfather, Hector Garcia, fought with Pancho Villa. Unfortunately, he died before his time. They were supposed to hang him at noon, but the army had forgotten there was no daylight savings time then, and so they hadn't set their watches forward! He hanged at 11."

All right, I'll agree that Spanish Red has a family heritage worth being proud of, and I'll even accept that she's had a difficult time of things, but wouldn't life treat her better if perhaps she was a little nicer to other people?

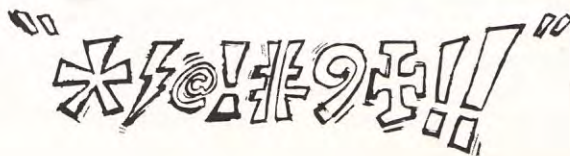

"Why should I be?" she sneers. "I'm superior to everybody else, so why not admit it? You pendeja! You va vosa!"

Oh sure, I argue, why not admit it? Why not just get an island in the Caribbean and become a dictator?

Naturally, she loves the suggestion. "Firme! I see it now! I'll be bigger than Evita! My face on stamps and money. . ."

As she spins off into her delusion, I sum up what I've learned about this hot-tempered GLOW Latina: Whether she stays in wrestling and goes for the GLOW crown, or goes into politics and tries for the crown jewels. . . Spanish Red is one dangerous rooka. ●

"I'm smart enough to know that if you collect enough old Kleenexes, you can make a lovely wedding gown!"

ONE-ON-ONE

DEBBIE DEBUTANTE

One-on-One is your chance to communicate directly with your favorite GLOW wrestlers. Write to the GLOW star of your choice at GLOW Magazine, 6565 Sunset Boulevard, Suite 520, Hollywood CA 90028. We'll print the best letters in each issue—along with each GLOW girl's response!

Dear Debbie Debutante,
You are one of the prettiest GLOW girls there is. Who was your toughest wrestling match against? How did you get into wrestling? Do you like it? Keep up the good wrestling and beat the bad GLOW girls.
Thank you.
Scott Stebbins
Battleboro VT

Dear Scott,

Thank you so very much for your nice letter, and for your compliments. I got into wrestling because I've always been such a physical buff. In prep school I was a champion on the women's wrestling team, and so I thought I'd use my training and my personal fitness program to get into the big time, in hopes that someday I'll be well enough known as a wrestler that I'll be able to write books on fitness and make aerobics videos to help other people stay in good shape. I truly believe that being fit and keeping your body buffed are two very, very important things. If you don't have your good health, what good is anything else? Anyway, I love wrestling for GLOW.

It's hard to say who of the bad girls is the toughest to wrestle. First of all, it's hard to call any of them wrestlers because they don't play by the rules. They cheat and use dirty tricks every chance they get. But I'd have to say that Vine was the roughest opponent I've had so far simply because she's so rotten, dirty and sneaky in the ring. You can't turn your back for a second. The only thing you can depend on is that she won't wrestle clean.

Dear Debbie Debutante:
I love to watch you wrestle and win all the time. I also loved the article on you in the premiere issue of GLOW magazine. I would really like to see you beat the hell out of Hollywood. I'd like to see you slam her from pillar to post. She's just no darn good at all.

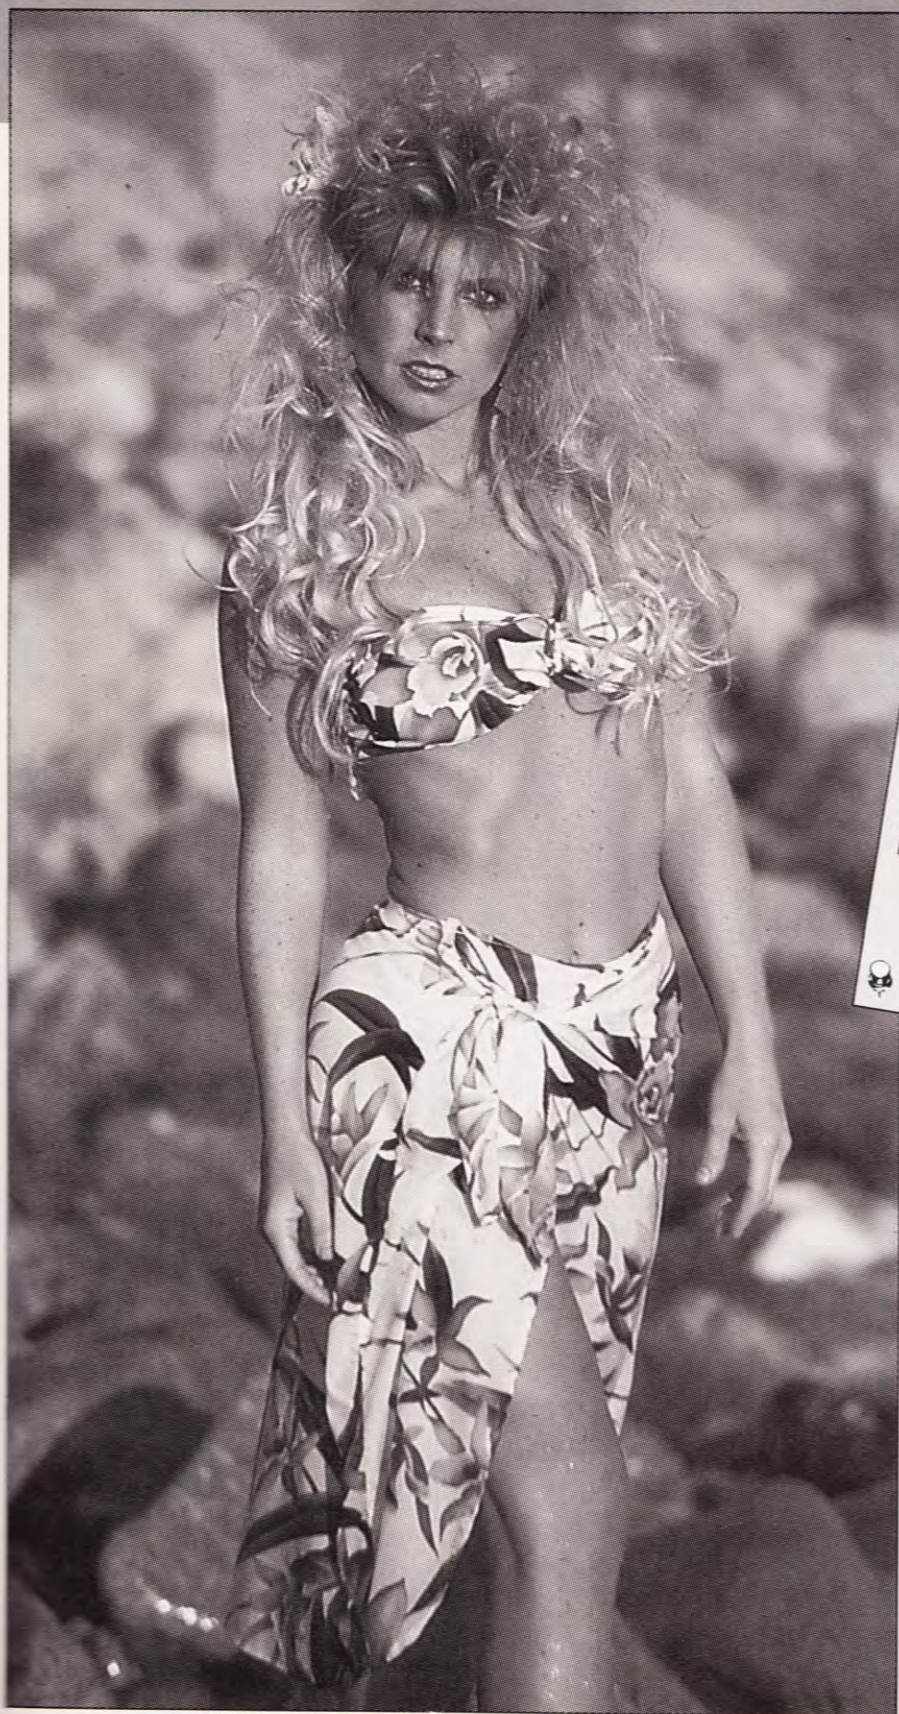

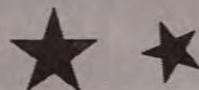

David Paitch
Hanover WA

Dear David:

It could be a coincidence that every time you watched GLOW, I won a match. Let me assure you that nobody wins all the time. As far as Hollywood is concerned, she said some nasty things about me and her time will come.

TARA THE SOUTHERN BELLE

Dear Tara,

You're a very beautiful young lady, and I don't understand why you would want to be a GLOW wrestler. I love GLOW wrestling. You are the prettiest girl in wrestling. I hope you never get hurt. You're a very great looking lady. I hope I can meet you someday. I want to become friends with you. I am six feet tall and weigh 200 pounds. I go to the gym and pump iron every day, run five miles, knock out sit-ups and pushups, have short blonde hair and green eyes, and I'm an attractive guy. I'd like to meet you. Please drop me a line, and tell Susie Spirit and Debbie Debutante I'd also like to hear from them.

Your friend,
Pvt. Elmer Branin
Fort Rucker AL

Dear Private Elmer,

Thank you so much for your dear letter. It really brightened up my day. It's good to know that there are still men out there, gallant men like yourself, who appreciate a proper, well brought up lady. I'm sure that in your uniform you look just as grand as my great-great-great grandfather, Colonel Beauregard, looked in his Confederate Army uniform in my favorite photograph of him, as he rode off to Chancellorsville. I'll bet you'd be the beau of any ball. What do you think of my Hawaiian vacation outfit?

ONE-ON-ONE

DEMENTIA

Dear Dementia,

Hey, I'm crazy too. Everybody tells me how crazy I am. So maybe you and me should get together someday real soon, because I can tell you're my kind of girl. I love your eyes, they're real expressive, and I can see the pain and tenderness inside because eyes are the window to the soul. I think you and me would really hit it off. You are very pretty and a great wrestler. I love the way you stomped the living daylights out of Tara the Southern Belle and slammed her on the mat a few times. You're really beautiful and my kind of gal. Please write me a note and tell me how we can meet.

Your crazy lover,
Spence Davisson
Clarksburg WV

[Editor's note: Spence, when we went to the asylum and gave Dementia your letter, along with a blank sheet of paper to answer you on, she returned the paper to us as it looks below.]

HOUSEWIVES

Dear Housewives:

You women (and I use the term loosely) ought to get back in the kitchen where you both belong. Stay out of the wrestling ring with your dirty tactics and plungers. Just who the hell do you think you are? You'll never be able to get away with all that cheating.

Beth Birnbaum
Flushing NY

Oh, yeah! And just who do you think is gonna stop us? Maybe you'd like to try, huh Beth? Maybe you'd like a face full of plunger or a frying pan upside your stupid head? We're in that ring to win against the rest of those floozies, and that's exactly what we're gonna do, whether you like it or not.

BODYSLAMS

GLOW FANS SPEAK OUT!

"Is it true that Debbie Debutante is quitting GLOW because of her hands—the ref keeps stepping on 'em!"

—Nan Dickerson,
Kansas City KA

"That dress that Aunt Kitty wears will never go out of style—it'll just keep looking ridiculous year after year!"

—Mindy Carver, Shreveport LA

"Tara the Southern Belle always wanted to wrestle badly, and she's realized her ambition—she wrestles very badly!"

—Sam Kesterson, Spokane WA

"I heard that Ninotchka just made the list of America's 10 Best Nobodies!"

—Robbie Dawson, Hampton VA

"Ninotchka's so conceited, I bet she never takes a hot shower because it fogs up the mirror!"

—Marc Lucas, Lincoln NE

"The Housewives really had the audience glued to their seats. When is the management going to take away their Crazy Glue?"

—Micala Jacobi,
Santa Monica CA

"During a recent appearance here, the Heavy Metal Sisters drew a line three blocks long—then they ran out of chalk!"

—Robert Reyes, Miami FL

"Ninotchka has such a talent for dirty tricks. If she cultivates it any further she'll be able to grow potatoes in it!"

—Jim Lamey, Tuscaloosa AL

Here are just a few things GLOW viewers are saying about their favorite or most hated GLOW wrestlers. If you have any comments to make, just send 'em to Body Slams, GLOW Magazine, 6565 Sunset Blvd., Suite 520, Hollywood CA 90028.

"Here at our house we're rooting for Dementia to get ahead. We don't like the one she has!"

—The Griffiths, Dothan AL

"The California Doll has a pretty little head. For a head, it's pretty little!"

—Terry Taft, Dearborn MI

"The entire audience was hissing Hollywood and Vine except for one guy, and he was applauding the hissing!"

—Scott Moore, Memphis TN

"Little Egypt gives a moving performance. Everybody starts moving toward the exits!"

—Dave Marley, Roselle IL

"Americana's fans are very polite—you can always see them covering their mouths when they yawn!"

—Ava Ciccione, Queens NY

"I understand that Chainsaw cancelled several matches because of her throat. The audience threatened to cut it!"

—Ray Regalato, Bakersfield CA

"Headhunter is the only woman I know who can trace her family tree back to the time her family lived in it!"

—Mala Schmidt,
Prince Georges MD

"Mt. Fiji has always kept her nose to the grindstone, and today she's the only wrestler in the whole world who can cut a steak with her nose!"

—Colleen Mendenhall,
Manassas VA

"Susie Spirit spends so much time lying on the mat, she should sell advertising on the soles of her shoes!"

—Richard Noe, Newton, MA

"Spanish Red's performance in the ring has to be seen to be depreciated!"

—Andrew Mabon, Cypress TX

UPCOMING IN GLOW MAGAZINE:

★ The Heavy Metal Sisters trashed our neighborhood, but first our staff photographer managed to capture them on film like you've never seen 'em before. Plus, an in-depth interview with the terrifying twosome proves conclusively that years of washing down Twinkies with cheap beer has in fact rotted their sick minds!

★ Godiva, a future GLOW Bad Girl, hopes to ride into the ring—and into your hearts—while she's barefoot all the way up to her chin! Our startling photos of Godiva in action reveal the naked truth about this newest brawler.

★ When it comes to winning moves, Debbie Debutante's impressive gymnastics can't be beat. Frame-by-frame photos will reveal the wildest pinning move you've ever seen!

★ Skokie, Illinois' own Americana confesses in intimate detail that something will soon be changing her life forever! Will it also take her away from GLOW? Stay tuned for more details.

★ Tag Team Trauma: Ninotchka introduces her new Russian Comrade, Tonya, and Tara brings along another Southern Belle, Magnolia. This is one fight to the finish you won't want to miss!

★ Dementia is let loose into the ring against GLOW's smallest new wrestler, Zelda the Nerd! Sure, Zelda knows a few karate chops, but can she stand up against Dementia's best woodchopping moves? We take you inside the ring—in living (?) color!

★ Hollywood does Hollywood, terrorizing all the famous rock'n'roll clubs. Luckily, our photographer went along and caught the sizzling, arm-twisting, head-splitting action as Hollywood paints the town blood red!

★ Plus page after page of letters from and photos of our fervid GLOW fans, a new Ninotchka comic strip, GLOW puzzles, GLOW contests, and more fun than Aunt Kitty can shake her umbrella at! Next month in GLOW magazine. Don't miss it!
